2. AFFORDABLE LIVING COSTS

- Newcastle consistently ranks among the UK's lowest-cost major cities, allowing residents to enjoy a high quality of life without London-level prices.
- Lower living costs make it easier for people to save, buy property sooner and enjoy more of what the city offers.

3. FOOD, CULTURE AND LEISURE

- Newcastle combines a world-class reputation for nightlife with national acclaim in food, arts, music and sport.
- The city and surrounding region features 11 Michelin Guide-listed restaurants and is home to hundreds of thriving independent food and drink operators.
- Home to major cultural venues such as BALTIC Centre for Contemporary Art, The Glasshouse and multiple theatres and music venues, making culture easily accessible year-round.
- Newcastle offers “big city culture” without big city stress, with everything compact enough to enjoy on a weeknight.

CULTURE

Nationally significant cultural scene, anchored by major institutions such as BALTIC Centre for Contemporary Art, The Glasshouse International Centre for Music, Theatre Royal and the Great North Museum.

A lively year-round festival calendar, including the Great North Run, Northern Pride, NOVUM Festival and a strong independent events culture.

A thriving independent creative ecosystem, with Ouseburn recognised nationally for its studios, live music, galleries and grassroots cultural venues.

Rich heritage woven into the city experience, from the castle and Roman history to industrial architecture, bridges and waterfront landmarks.

Compact, walkable culture, where theatres, galleries, live music, nightlife, restaurants and Quayside events sit within minutes of each other.

SPORT

World-class sporting identity, powered by Newcastle United Football Club, Newcastle Red Bulls, Newcastle Eagles and a deep sporting culture that permeates the city.

Home of the Great North Run, the world's biggest half marathon and a global symbol of the region's sporting spirit.

Exceptional grassroots and participation facilities, with abundant football, rugby, athletics, tennis, swimming and community sport infrastructure.

Outdoor sport on the doorstep, offering running routes, cycling networks, paddleboarding, coastal swimming and hiking in the surrounding countryside.

Major events coming to the city, hosting elite football, international athletics, rugby league, rugby union, women's sport and global running events.

LEISURE

Renowned food and hospitality scene, mixing independents, global cuisine, thriving coffee culture and destination restaurants on the Quayside and in Ouseburn.

Compact, energised city centre, offering nightlife, shopping, culture and dining all within short walking distance.

Huge choice of free and low-cost activities, including galleries, museums, parks, public events, waterfront trails and cultural festivals.

Vibrant neighbourhood life, with Jesmond, Ouseburn, Heaton and Gosforth offering lifestyle-driven leisure options: cafés, microbreweries, markets, music and creatives.

Year-round experiences for all ages, from urban family attractions (Life Science Centre, Discovery Museum) to coastal days out, markets, trails and seasonal events.

4. COASTLINE, COUNTRYSIDE AND NATIONAL PARKS

4. COASTLINE, COUNTRYSIDE AND NATIONAL PARKS

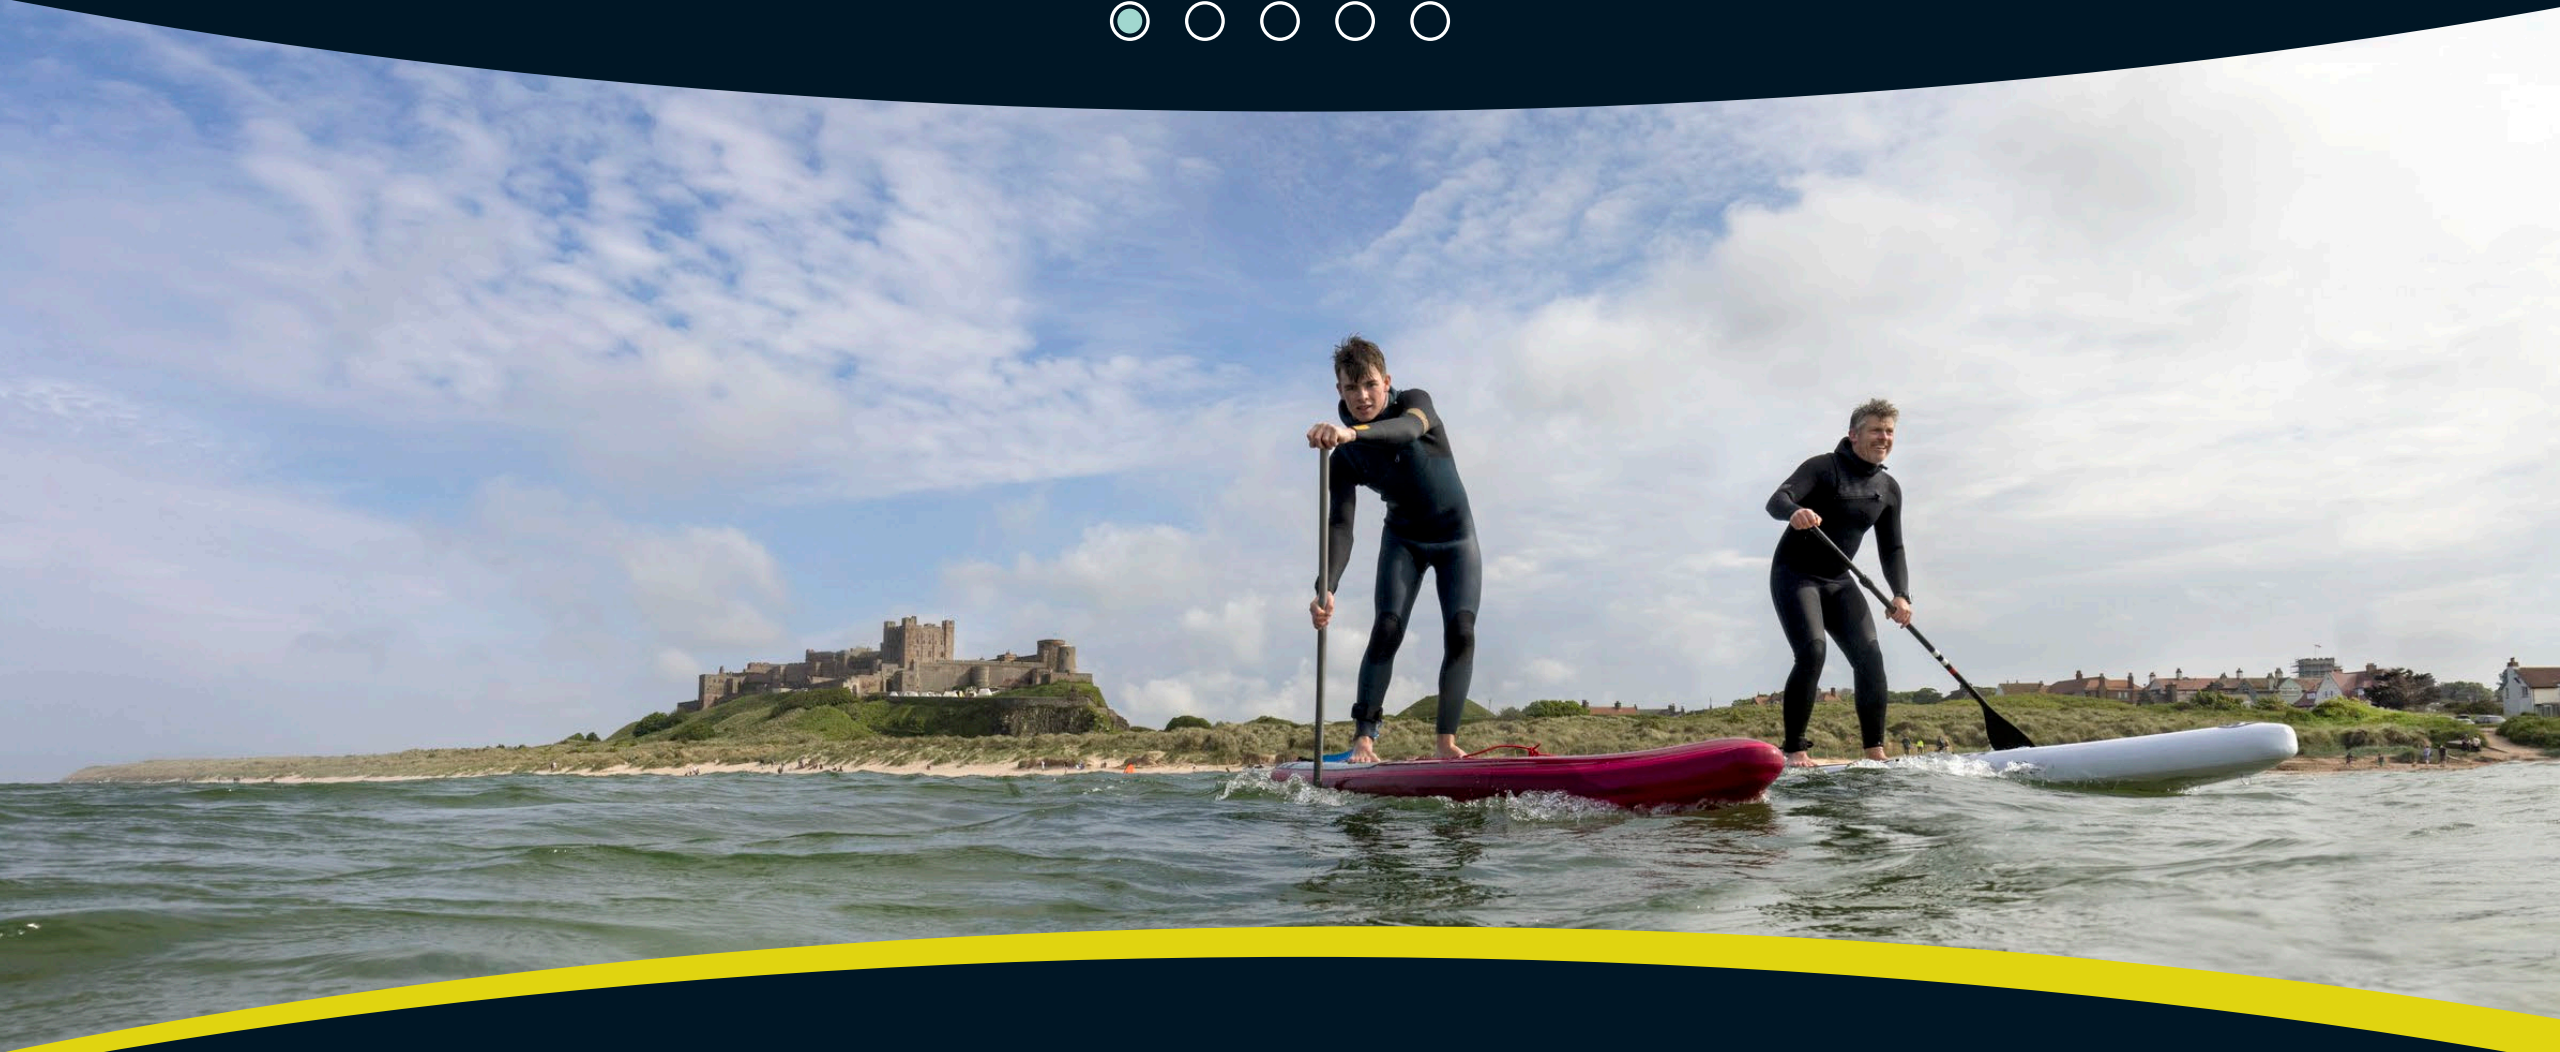

Access to nature in a region of exceptional green spaces and stunning coastline.

Award-winning beaches such as Tynemouth and Whitley Bay are just 15–20 minutes from the city centre.

Northumberland National Park is around 40 minutes away, offering walking, cycling, dark skies and UNESCO Hadrian's Wall.

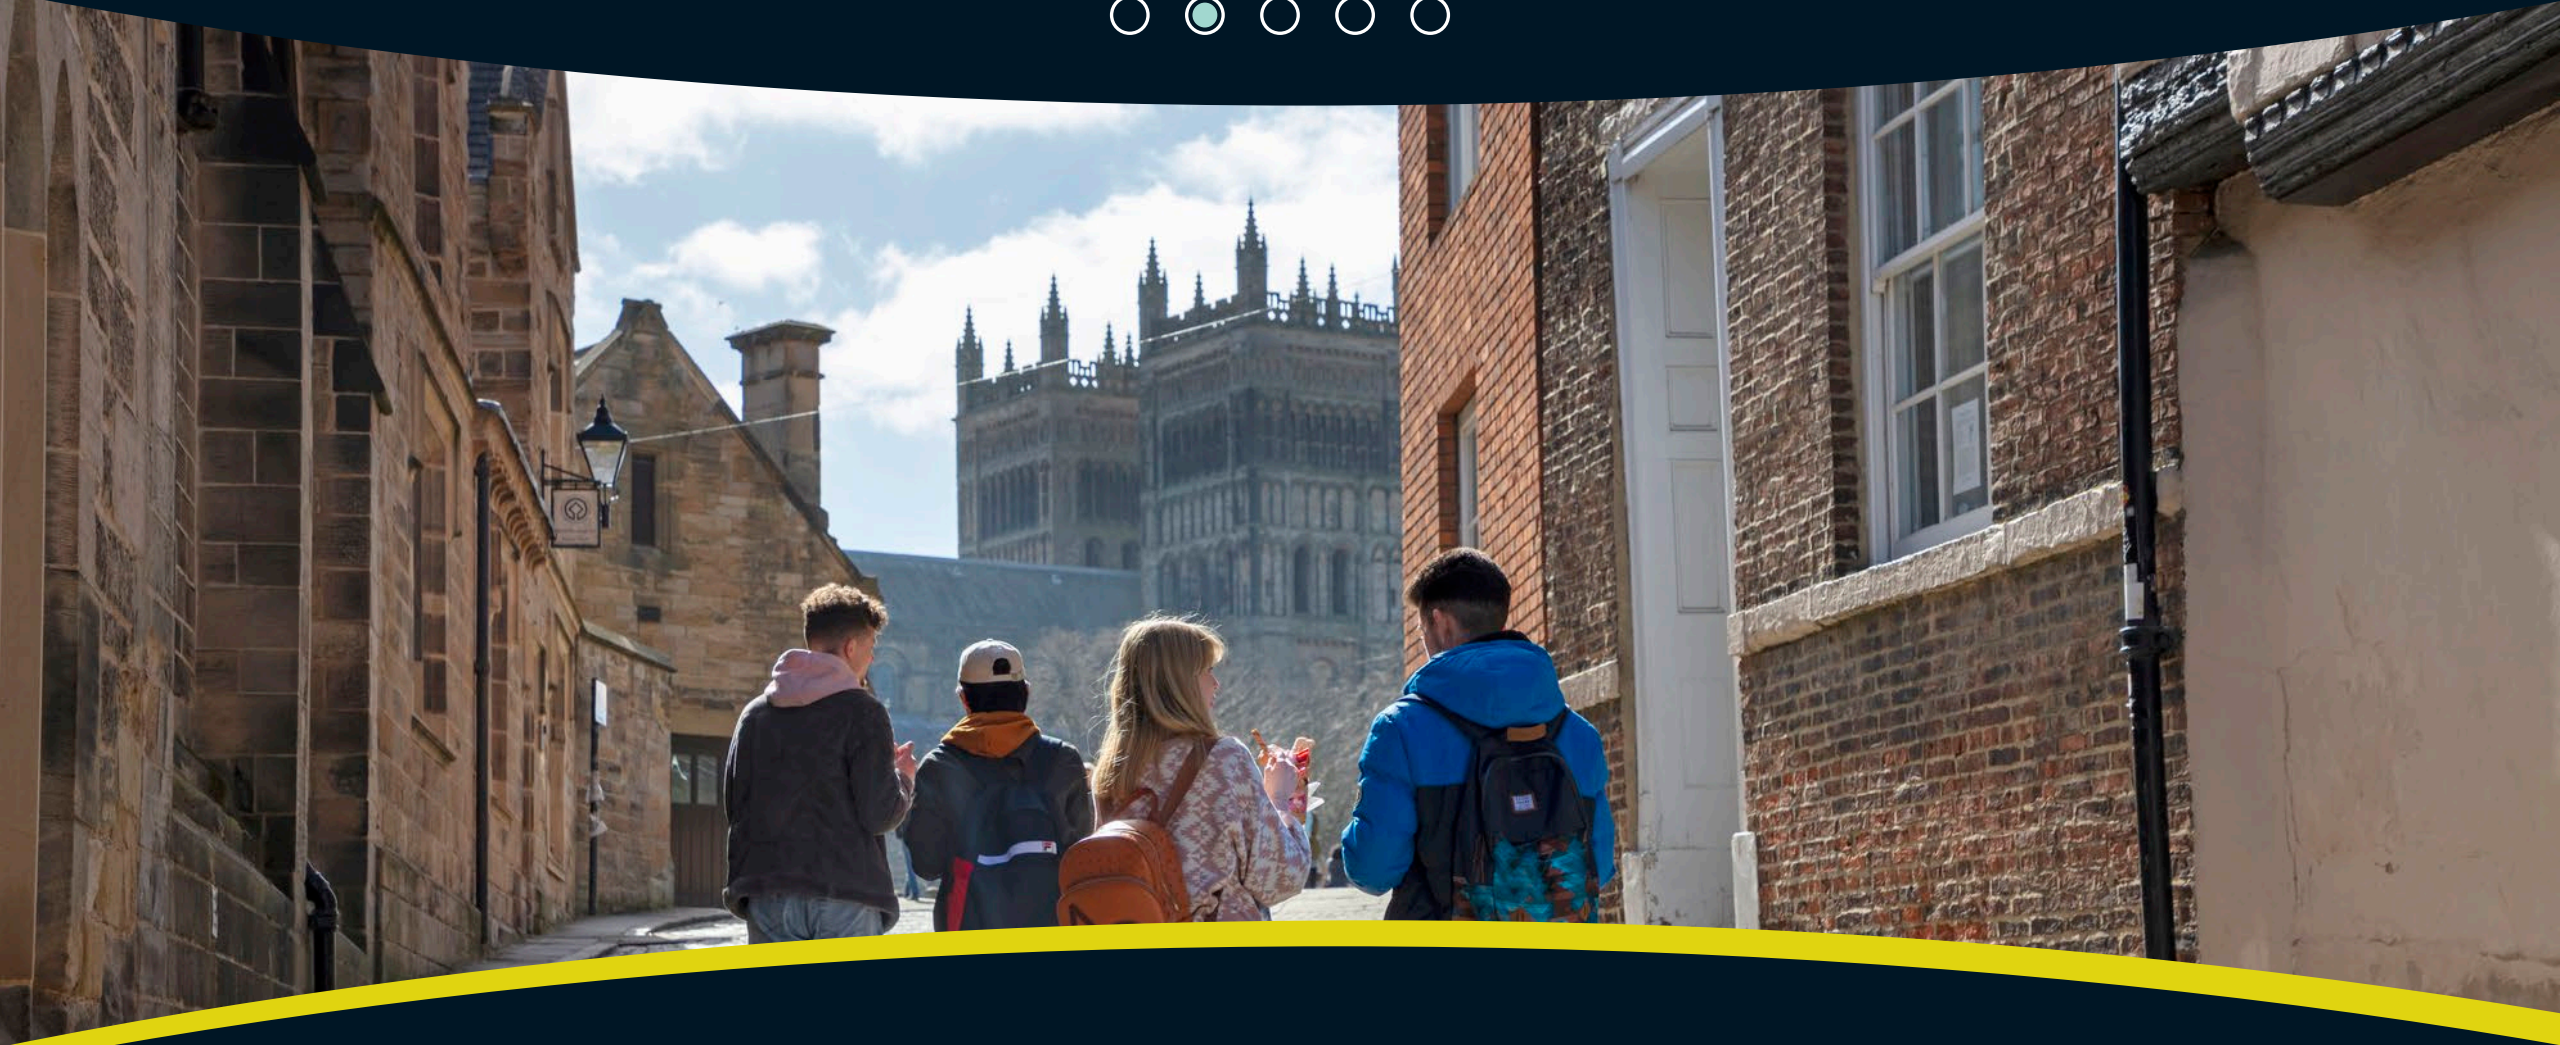

Northumberland has the highest concentration of castles in England, including Alnwick Castle for Harry Potter enthusiasts.

Residents can easily enjoy beaches, national parks and some of England's darkest skies after work.

NATURE

Fast access to extraordinary landscapes, with the coast, Northumberland National Park, Hadrian's Wall and Tyne Riverside Country Park all within 30–45 minutes.

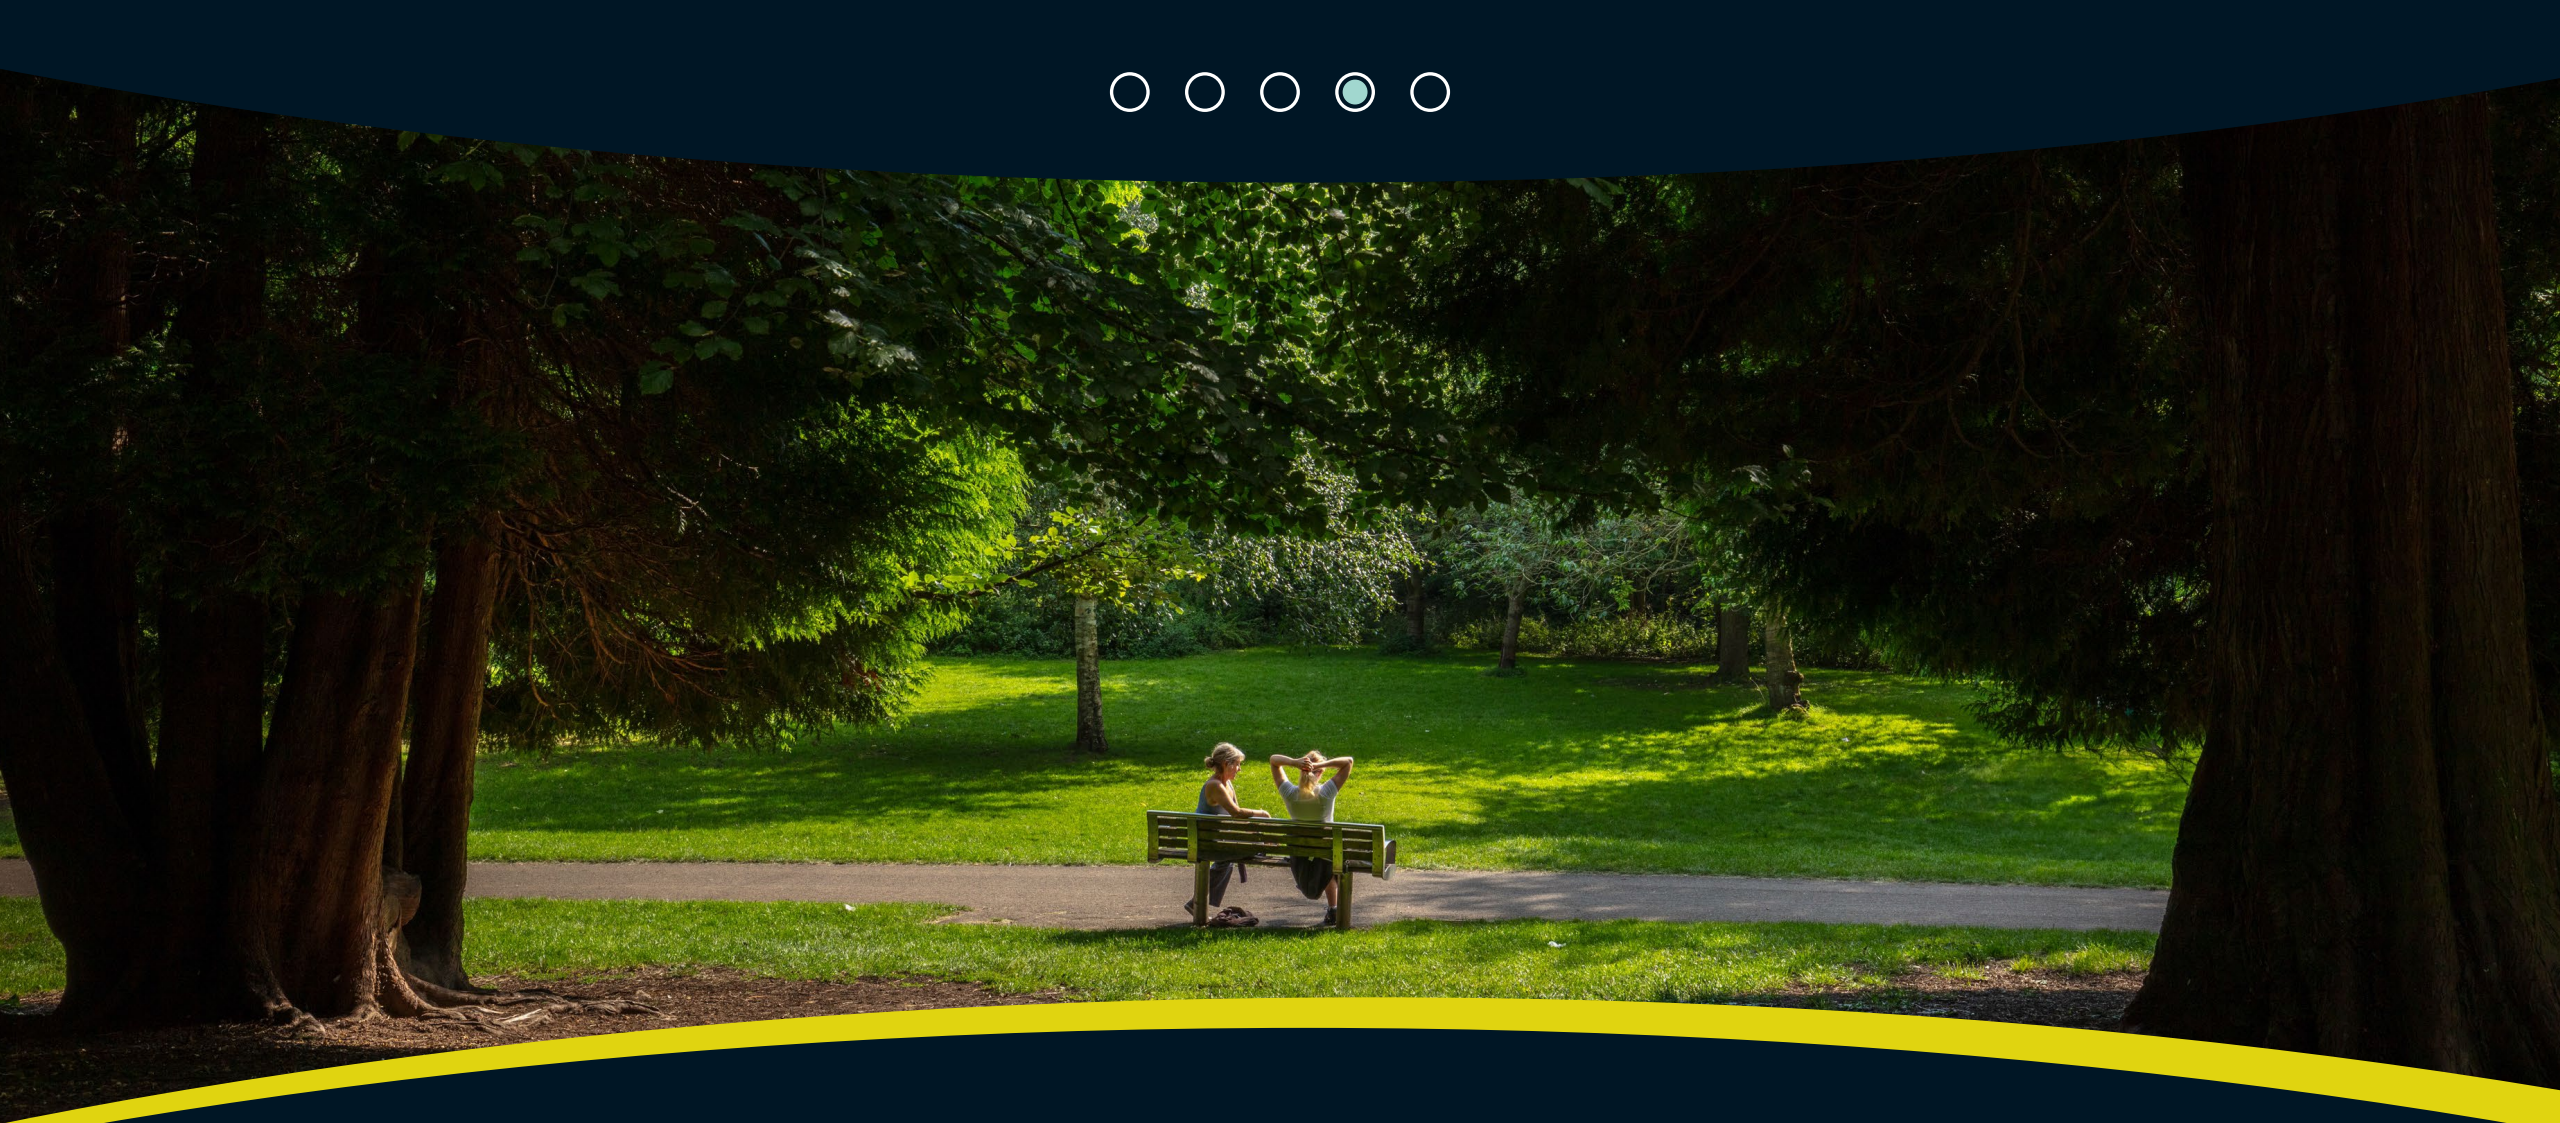

NATURE

UNESCO World Heritage Sites on the doorstep, with Durham Cathedral just a 10-minute train journey from Newcastle Central Station.

NATURE

A city built around parks and rivers, from Exhibition Park and the Town Moor (larger than many London Royal Parks) to the Tyne's riverside trails & cycle routes.

NATURE

Meaningful connection to nature in daily life, supported by tree-lined neighbourhoods, nature reserves, allotments and award-winning urban parks.

NATURE

Outdoor-ready infrastructure, with walking, cycling, running and water-edge routes accessible directly from the city centre.

5. EXCELLENT TRANSPORT

Newcastle is well-connected for both commuting and wider UK and international travel, without the expense or congestion of larger cities.

METRO

The Tyne and Wear Metro carries over 30 million passenger journeys a year, connecting Newcastle, Gateshead, Sunderland and the coast

The maximum fare for any single journey on the Metro is £2.50*, making it one of the UK's most affordable urban transit systems

CASE STUDIES

JAMES BEARD

CEO, Neptune North

Relocated to Newcastle from London in 2005.

Why I Moved

My wife is from the North East, so if I'm honest, Newcastle was always going to be home eventually, it just took me a while to catch up. When the time came, the decision wasn't difficult. We wanted a better quality of life without the compromises London demands, and Newcastle delivered on every count. The space to raise a family was hugely appealing and the beautiful countryside right on the doorstep sealed it. It also turned out to be the perfect base from which to build Neptune North.

What I Love About Newcastle

The first thing you notice is how much more you can fit into a day. Less time commuting, more time living - it sounds simple, but it changes everything. The people are genuinely friendly and the city feels safe in a way that larger cities often don't. Housing is affordable in a way that London simply can't offer anymore, and you can access everything you need - good schools, good food, good everything - without a fight to get it.

For me personally, the fact that I can be on a clay tennis court ten minutes after leaving my desk at Neptune North in the city centre is a dream come true. But it's not just me, I see it across the Neptune North team every day. Colleagues who relocated here are happily putting down roots, and seeing that happen has been one of the most rewarding parts of building the business here.

Impact Since Moving

Leaving Goldman Sachs in London and relocating here turned out to be one of the best decisions I've made. I built my career in Newcastle and have proudly helped grow local and international businesses like Sage Pay, tombola and now Neptune North, from the North East ever since. We have built a team at Neptune North full of people who made the same bet on the region that I did. Watching colleagues settle in, buy houses and start families here has been incredible and it reinforces every day that this is a genuinely great place to build an ambitious, internationally connected business.

Advice for Others

Come up, meet some people, have a look around - you won't want to leave. And if you're on the fence, talk to someone who has already made the move. Every single one of them will tell you the same thing. Don't tell too many people though...we don't want it ruined!

EMMA BETLEY

ESG Manager, Atom Bank

Returned to the North East from London in 2024

Why I Moved

I grew up in the North East and studied at Durham University. After graduation, I moved to London for a graduate role

My husband and I made the decision to move to the North East in 2024. Main drivers of the decision were:

Being closer to family

House prices and affordability - after 6 years of renting in London we wanted to own our own home and the NE made it so much easier to do so

The beauty of the region and being able to so easily access countryside, sea, city. The North East has it all

I was also delighted to discover that finding a great role at a great company that would enable me to continue my career in the Financial Services sector wasn't as difficult as I feared.

What I Love About Newcastle

- The landscapes - the mix of coast, countryside and access to great cities
- Slower pace of life / no longer feeling the stresses of London living!
- The people and sense of community

Advice for Others

There is so much opportunity for a thriving career in this fantastic region!

Impact Since Moving

Prior to moving I'd worried that I would be sacrificing some of my career prospects and professional network. I've been delighted to find the opposite. My role at Atom in Newcastle has enabled me to:

- Build connections much more quickly than I ever did in London – people in the North East are so ready and willing to connect and share their own contacts
- Lead on Atom's environment and social investment strategies, helping Atom to be a business that does the right thing by its communities and the environment.
- Make a real impact - I've been really supported to explore my passion for gender equity by launching the Atom Women's Network in 2025. The network is now a 150 strong community dedicated to connecting the women of Atom, supporting their professional development and inspiring the next generation of women in Fintech.
- Building on the success of the Atom Women's Network, I'm also very proud to be a co-founder of the North East Women in Business Network - a community of businesses who are committed to supporting female professionals across our region. This is one of my proudest achievements since moving.
- Through my involvement in this network, I'm also privileged to have been invited to join the Advisory Board for a new North East Women of Excellence Awards which just launched in Sept 2026 and I think will make a really impact to female professionals and business owners in our region

RICHARD GRANT

Client Advisory Partner and North East Region Lead, Capgemini

Relocated to the North East from Wiltshire in 2000 with my now wife.

Why I Moved

- Initially for Durham University for 4 year Civil Engineering degree
- Subsequently remains for a for a high-quality graduate Civil Engineering role at Arup in Newcastle
- Stayed in the North-East because of the vibrancy of the region and opportunities for high quality employment within the professional services sector
- Moved to Management Consultancy and was able to stay in the region because of the strength of both the Management Consultancy market and clients including large Government Departments
- Attracted to continue to stay as a result of the balance of career opportunity and quality of life (for my family and me), together with the overall liveability of the region and compact Newcastle city centre

What I Love About Newcastle

- Unique sense of self and identity existing throughout the region
- High quality of life including vibrant music/gig scene, walkable commutes and easy movement around the city
- Beautiful architecture throughout Newcastle and the region
- Excellent university education offer and brilliant wider co-curricular opportunities for children
- Immediate access to coast, countryside, and parks

Impact Since Moving

- Worked for 3 multinational companies, all based in the heart of Newcastle
- Delivered civil engineering design /advisory services on some high profile North East infrastructure projects
- Developed my career in Management Consultancy from Analyst to Vice President whilst based in the region
- Opened a new Capgemini office now home to almost 300 people connected to the office/living in the region
- Created strong professional and personal connections throughout the North East Tech community and beyond

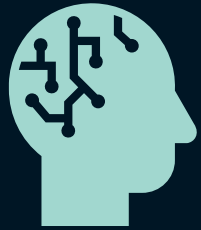

Advice for Others

- “The region is hidden gem offering endless and unique opportunities to blend working with leading companies and client and, at the same time, achieving a great work/life balance”
- “Newcastle is unexpectedly well connected and much closer in travel time to other major cities than people expect”
- “The region has confidence in itself and by moving here you can share in this!”
